

5g base station live protection

Overview

The baseband unit processes data from calls and data transmissions and links data between the wireline infrastructure and the AAS. Additionally, this device either encodes transmissions or decodes received signals. Note that the baseband unit has its own power supply, as shown in Figure 1. Overall, the power supply and backup battery system provide both AC line power and DC battery backup power to ensure the base station remains powered when AC line power is disabled. Figure 4 shows the circuit blocks of the power supply and backup battery system. All in all, communication infrastructure must have extremely high reliability so that uptime can exceed 99.9%. The recommended.
